

Food Allergies on Campus

Dining Services strives to provide culturally diverse, healthy options to students throughout the day. These options may include items disagreeable with allergic reactions. Dining Services seeks to accommodate students with food alternatives when these preferences are a result of a food allergy.

Representatives from Dining Services and Health Services will be available to meet with students to discuss food allergies. After reviewing menu, recipes and food labels, with the student, the Executive Chef, Production Manager or Kitchen Manager, the Management team will assist the student with alternate food choices.
