Measures to be adopteshould include, but not be limited to, the following:

- x Develop and implement an institutional policy on dealer hiring
- x Make interested partners eligible to apply for oppositions as internal candidates
- x Allow partners to access Skidmore's existing employment services
- x Develop and implement a mechanism troopide institutional perspective and oversight in hiring practices including search committees to ensure that partner job candidates are treated equitably, to advocate for the institutional benefits of qualified partner hires, and to guard against perceived biases against partners, while no or to departments/offices
- x Designate a staff member within HR to provide employment coordination services for employees' partners, in close coordination with DOF, the @a@enter, and Alumni Relations

We encourage the Administration to include both faculty and staff their significant others in any sun272 35w eTw 125ant4 (ny)18 (s272 35we)3 (neTw [(s)6 (w 27.19 0 12 78.3 (d)-4 (s,)-2 (od)

Rationale:

Skidmore lacks a comprehensive policy on character hires, despite the fact thabaut 80% of academics have spouses or partners who are working professionals, almost half of whom are also academics/(olf-Wendel et al., 200)4 The College's mixed trackcord of working with dual-career couples reflects our lack of a comprehensive policity esocalled "two-body problem." Other highered institutions have extensive experience addressing this issue on an institutional rather than individual level. "By considering the thoody problem as a two-body documented "two body problembreserts Skidmore with an opportunity to advance a number of the College's commitment to Inclusive Excellence trengthening the College community in support of all four of our strategic priorities: Integrative Learning and Education Fo Enhance the Work of the Faculty as Teacholars II. Access—To Ensure Access for All Our Students to an Extraordinary Educational Experience: III.—Mentally—To Strengthen the Inclusiveness, Health, and Welleing of Our Community, and Sustainability—To Continue to Build a Sustainable Institutional Foundation for Excelle (Skidmore Strategic Plan 2015 2025)

We will organize discussion for ain November for faculty and staff interested in discussing this topic.
